On page 13, please amend the paragraph beginning on line 13, and add a new paragraph thereafter, as follows:

--In the drawings is shown a preferred embodiment of an adhesive patch 1 for use for an ostomy appliance. ~~The, said patch being~~ is able to adhere to the skin, ~~said patch comprising and includes~~ a backing layer 2 and a layer of a skin-friendly adhesive for adhering to the skin. ~~The, and said patch having~~ has a pattern of indentations ~~wherein the patch comprises and includes~~ a first central first area 3 of a relatively high thickness and a central hole 4, a second area 5 surrounding the first area for attaching a collecting bag or a coupling device, and ~~an a third edge third area~~ 6 area surrounding the second area. As shown in Figure 1, the first area 3 is bounded by an outer border 20 which defines the extent of the first area 3 relative to the second area 5. Similarly, the third area 6 is bounded by an inner border 21 which defines the extent of the third area 6 relative to the second area 5. The outer boundary of the third area corresponds with the rim 22 of the patch. ~~The, wherein the first and third areas are~~ provided with indentations 7, 8 7 and 8, respectively, with and ~~wherein the indentations 8 in the third area are being~~ in the form of a pattern of curvilinear indentations. As shown, the pattern of indentations in the first area, which includes radial indentations that intersect with and cross substantially concentric indentations encircling the hole 4, is different from the pattern of curvilinear indentations in the third area. This embodiment is further provided with radial zones 9 in the third area, ~~said zones 9 having~~ which have a thickness comparable with the thickness of the material in the bottom of the indentations in the third area. In addition, ~~and~~ the backing layer 2 is provided with an ear 10 protruding from the rim 22 of the patch for an easy grip.
